In each of our three areas of expertise, we work to go beyond simply meeting IT needs to address critical operational challenges.

- Independent Verification & Validation (IV&V)

Innovative rapid assessment methodology verifies and validates your project or program cost, schedule, and performance, from concept stage through successful implementation.

- Independent System Testing

System performance, security, function, usability, accessibility, user acceptance—objective life cycle testing assures that your personnel have the system they require to maximize their performance.

- Program and Project Management

The successful completion of each project or program is assured by transparency in the process and accountability for the results.
